Prevost Construction has completed multiple projects at ViaSat's corporate headquarters in Carlsbad. These included an extensive renovation for the company executives' office space including the office of CEO and chairman, Mark Dankberg. The project featured a private board room area with adjacent kitchenette, executive offices and staff support areas. Upgraded lighting and high-end finishes were completed throughout the 11,000-square-foot space. ViaSat, which employs approximately 1,200 individuals at its six-building campus, also hired Prevost to construct their Roast House coffee lounge. The lounge features an inviting and comfortable space with amenities that provide for a fun and interactive area for employees to balance their activities between work and play.
